Death of S. G. Lake

The very and intelligence was received in Blaimore on Tuesday morning that Mr. S. G. Lake, well known throughout The Pass, having for several years been in the employ of the C. P. R. as coal inspector in this division, had passed away rather suddenly at Toronto on that morning, following a rather serious operation performed several days previously.For several months past Mr. Lake had expressed a desire to join the fighting ranks of the Empire, but failed to pass the rigid examination of the medical authorities. Convinced that he could qualify after undergoing an operation, he determined to go east to Toronto,there to rest up a while and then to be treated by the surgeons. He left for Toronto about twelve days ago.The operation was evidently more serious than at first thought. He failed to survive, and died the death of a hero.Mr. Lake was of a most pleasing disposition, and was very highly esteemed by all throughout this district with whom he came in contact. For a number ofyears he was a guest at the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium hotel at Frank, where he won a host of friends, who will be very sorry to hear of his sudden demise.About a year ago, he and his former room-mate, Mr. J. K. Gilles, decided to purchase a home in Blaimore, where they have since conducted a "lunch."Mr. Lake was about twenty-six years of age and unmarried.

Protest Drewry Decision

Action has been entered in Calgary to protest the decision of the Supreme Court in the J. C. Drewry will case.The case involves an $100,000 will left by the owner of Glenview ranch, of Cowley, in which his wife Phoebe Jane Drewry was cut off with nothing. The court afterwards awarded $12,000. This is being contested and will be carried to the privy council.

"The White Feather"

The production of "The White Feather" at the Blaimore opera house on April 20th theatre patrons are promised the most novel drama that has ever been brought to Canada.The most dramatic feature of the great World War that has been placed before the eyes of the world was brought about in the early stages of the war by the ex-posure of the German espionage system.The publishing daily of the exploits of the German spies in England brought about gradually the realization by the British populace that the extent of the system was much greater than had ever been comprehended.Trusted servants who had long been in the employ of old English families—many of whom were connected with the diplomatic service—were found to have been also in the employ of the German government for years. During breaches of trust were exposed; attempts on innocent lives were revealed. The light of exposure was thrown on a vast conspiracy by hundreds of German workers in an effort to keep their own country advised of important diplomatic moves by Britain.Then followed wholesale persecutions and imprisonments. The details of which will not be made known until long after the war has become history. Slowly but surely the British hand of justice reached out and wiped the blight of espionage from the British Isles.Largely responsible for the stirring of feeling against the German suspects in the Old Country was the spectacular play "The Man Who Stayed at Home."When first presented in London the spectators were struck dumb. They wouldn't believe that such things as were portrayed through the play could be emeted in real life.An awakening came. The daily papers commenced to publish stories sensationally even more weird and unbelievable than that of "The Man Who Stayed at Home." News in the theatrical history of England has so much interest been aroused through one play."The White Feather," our coming production, is the same play. The same emotion that has been caused in Britain is being extended to Canada.James Guy-Carter, who plays the leading role, is assisted by such well known players as Zena Vaughn, Nina Gailbert, Alton Strickland, I. W. Middleton, Clifton Richfield, Charlie Smith, Laurel Bennetts, Flora Le Mar and others.Rocky Mountain

Greatest Victory Without Firing a Shot

Washington, March 29.—Dreadnoughts have won the greatest victory of the European war without firing a shot.
Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy told the house naval committee. Without enough dreadnoughts, he said, the United States would win a "bloodless victory" in a war."Today the United States is richer and stronger than ever in its history, in comparison with other powers," Mr. Roosevelt said, explaining that the nation has great potential resources, "but a handful of an army" and a navy weaker than several powers for immediate defence.By keeping the foe's fleet off the sea, Mr.
Roosevelt said, the British dreadnoughts had attained the aim for which they were built.That there is a possibility at least of this nation becoming involved in war with a victor in Europe was asserted by Mr. Roosevelt. He pictured disaster in a war with a fleet twice as strong, expressing belief that the United States fleet would be wiped out, the Panama canal and United States possessions lost and the nation "bottled up" and open to invasion."If," he added, "Germany were to meet the English navy alone on the high seas it would be destroyed undoubtedly."Reward $15.00 Reward was given for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person cutting, without authority, dry or green timber on our property.

Medicine Hat (pro tem.)
Editor "Blairmore Enterprise," Dear Sir:—I was much interested in your account of the settlement of Rev.
Dr. Gray as pastor of the united congregations at Blairmore, and wish to express my heartiest wishes for great success.
I cherish grateful recollections of the happy weeks enjoyed while visiting old and dear friends in your hospitable "barg" during the fall of 1914, when I had the opportunity of giving some special help to the Baptist church and its devoted pastor.

It has been a joy and stimulus to run up occasionally from Lethbridge during the past two and one-half years.
As one whose youth was spent in one of the Presbyterian churches of Scotland I am deeply interested in the experiment now being made by the people of Blair-more.

Yours very sincerely,
DAVID ROSS.

Urgent Need For Reform

Proceeding with the discussion of the motion before the house on Thursday last, John Kenmis, member for Pincher Creek, declared that policies in this country have reached a stage where honest and respectable men are afraid to come out in the open and advocate a public policy because the man on the street has come to the belief that all public actions are governed by ulterior motives of rotten politics. This state of affairs, deplorable though it is, is due to the unsavory patronage system so extensively practiced. No man is given credit for any public deed any more, but is read out as the honorable minister of education read out the names of the committee the preceding night. He urged that reform should be adopted in the civil service, reform as wide and wholesome as possible.

Nitro Culture

The school of agriculture, Clara-holm, Alberta, will furnish to the farmers of western Canada cultures for inoculating the following legume seed: Alfalfa, White Sweet Clover, Yellow Sweet Clover, Field Peas, Red Clover and Alsike. Each culture is sufficient for inoculating sixty pounds of seed. Full instructions as to the method of sowing and cultures will be enclosed with each mailing case. Each applicant should state the kind of legume seed he wishes to inoculate. The cost per culture, including postage, is twenty five cents. All applications will receive prompt attention.

Strange Prophecies

Of a London Banker

In the latter half of last year an officer called on the bank manager in London with regard to certain dispositions of his balance preparatory to his departure for the front.

"You won't be away long," said the manager.
"How do you know?" was the reply.
"You will be back in quite a short time, without incident in the hand."

When the officer actually returned with a wound handed in a short time he was puzzled. However, his wound healed, and he was off again. He went to bid "Good-bye" at the bank.

"Any more prophecies?" said he pecularly.

"You will be away longer this time," replied the manager, "and then you will be rather badly wounded in the leg." When the officer was wounded in the leg and came home he sought the first chance to interview his far-seeing friend at the bank.

"As you can foretell my wounds, can't you give me the date of the end of the war?" he asked.

"The war will end," said the manager, "on June 17, next. But I shan't live to witness it. I shall just about see New Year's Day, and that is all."

He died on January 2, says the "Economic News." The officer is now looking forward with extraordinary interest to June 17.

Production and Thrift

"CANADA from her abundance can help supply the Empire's needs, and this must be a comforting thought for those upon whom the heavy burden of directing the Empire's affairs has been laid. Gain or no gain the course before the farmers of Canada is as clear as it was last year—they must produce abundantly in order to meet the demands that may be made and I believe this to be especially true in regard to live stock, the world's supply of which must be particularly affected in this vast struggle. Stress and strain may yet be in store for us all before this tragic conflict is over, but not one of us doubts the issue, and Canadians will do their duty in the highest sense of that great word."—HON. MARTIN DURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

"MODERN war is made by resources, by money, by foodstuffs, as well as by men and by munitions. While war is our first lustiness, it is the imperative duty of every man in Canada to produce all that he can, to work doubly hard while our soldiers are in the trenches, in order that the resources of the country may not only be conserved, but increased, for the great struggle that lies before us. 'Work and Save' is a good motto for War-time."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

TO CANADIAN FARMERS, DAIRYMEN, FRUIT GROWERS, GARDENERS

We must feed ourselves, feed our soldiers, and help feed the Allies. The need is greater in 1916 than it was in 1915. The difficulties are greater, the task is heavier, the need is more urgent, the call to patriotism is louder—therefore be thriftful and produce to the limit.

Verdun is holding against the most savage death-dealing assaults in the history of the world. Unless the sanguinary carnival of slaughter is productive of more decisive results within the next week than has been the case since the smash was first started on Feb. 21 the crown prince's mighty offensive will fall through its very violence. The armies of the German crown prince around Verdun are still vigorously on the offensive against the French.
